some of the arguments used against him, and drew this conclusion: We have taken no brief to prove him in-errant in all his views, or wise in the mode of their esentation. To our mind he has been neither. But is a heretic, essentially unsound and contra-confessional on the vital points of our evangelical and Calvinistic system? To us it seems incredible, unless be is also believed to be guilty of deliberate jugglery of cess, we trust, the matter is now to be tested. teacher not always balanced in his public state ments of truth, not quick to discern the easily possible m, nor at pains to guard fully against the possible misconstruction! Let it be conceded; and, if need be let the Church, in her representative capacity and right of episcopal oversight, issue such admonition or rebuke as may be deemed wise and best. Is he a Christian scholar, in love with God's word, meaning to exalt it, a reverent handler of word, meaning to exait it, a reverent handler of its sacred mysteries, and enstusiastic champion of its supernaturalism; believing it vibrant through all its tender and splendid speech, through all its pealm and story, with the inspiration of Jehovah, and believing it filled with the glory of theophanics from Genesis to Revelstion, whom to hound out of the Presbyterian Church by a cry of alarm would be a sin and shame? Without hesitation we answer, Yes.

"What then should the Assembly do? There is but one course open for it, it seems. We must adopt the report of Union Seminary, and then appoint a committee to go to New-York and have a plain talk, face to face, with the directors and faculty and, if need be, with Dr. Briggs; tell them plainly that Dr. Briggs has made a mistake; that he must cease putting forth such matter as is contained in his address and in his books; that the Church will not stand it. Suppose he declines to follow the committee's directions? Then the Assembly next year can lay its hands on Union Seminary in a mauner that will be effective."

"If this suggestion was adopted could the next Assembly touch Dr. Briggs directly?"

"No, it must veto his appointment now, or not at all."

"On what charge could Dr. Briggs be vetoed?"

"On what charge could Dr. Briggs be vetoed ?"

"I am at a loss to know; a veto without reason would never do. The Church must give a reason for so gross an act. If the reason be heresy it will be difficult, if not impossible, to prove the charge. Dr. Briggs is not a heretic. But if that were the reason assigned and the trial for heresy now pending in the New-York Presbytery should not be sustained, the case would come before a following Assembly, which has already announced its verdict."

"Will the course you recommend satisfy the Church!"

Church 1" All except the rabid element. It will accomplish all that a veto would, without the disastrous effect that might result if extreme measures were used."

GUARES OVER TREASURER BARDSLEY.

PACTS THAT PLACE THE PHILADELPHIA OFFI CIAL IN A BETTER LIGHT.

Philadelphia, May 24.-There has been a hill to-day in the sensational incidents of the last week that reached a climax last night in the arrest of City Treasurer Bardsley, charged with misappropriating $39,000 the city's money. Nothing new was developed that would serve to throw light on what has become of the $1,000,000 that Mr. Bardsley says he deposited in the Keystone Bank, and which Examiner Drew and Receiver Yardley say there is no record of on the bank's books. The two questions that excited the greatest interest to-day were: Will Bardsley be well igh to appear at the hearing of his case to-morrow and What has become of the fugitive Marsh?

There is no doubt that Mr. Bardsley is a sick man, the terrible strain which he has been under having, left him completely prostrated. When ar-rested last night he was ill in bed and it was thought best not to attempt to remove him. Two detectives were left on guard over him and that guard has been maintained to-day. Mr. Bardsley's family physician says that he will be unable to appear at the hearing prow, but as his patient was somewhat better to-day it is possible that the authorities may decide that his condition is not so serious as to endanger his life if he is made to appear. The contention of Mr. Bardsley's counsel that his client will of Mr. Bardsley's counsel that his client willbe able to prove that his arrest was unwarranted was borne out by some facts brought to light to-day. The $39,000 which Mr. Bardsley is accused of misappropriating, it seems, does not belong to the city at all. The three experts who are going over the City Treasurer's necounts discovered the apparent discrepancy between the stub of the Treasurer's check book and the city's deposit book. The latter showed that Mr. Bardsley had checked out of the Third National Bank $39,000, which did not appear upon the stub of the check book. It was immediately concluded that the money had been misappropriated by the City Treasurer, and it was upon an affidavit sworn out to this effect that he was arrested. It was said that the money was that retained by Mr. Bradsley from warrants of highway contractors as a gurantee of the faithful fulfilment of their work. The City Treasurer is authorized law to retain 10 per cent of contractors' warrants, and the city has no right or interest in the money whatever. If, when the case is heard, Mr. Bardsley can prove, which from present indications he can, that he pald over the money to contractors, the city authorities will be placed in the embarrassing position of having hauled into court on a criminal charge a man against whom, as yet, they have no ovidence to warrant such a charge.

SENATOR SLOAN TO RETIRE.

TO WITHDRAW FROM PUBLIC LIFE-A LOSS TO THE PARTY.

B. Sloan, of Oswego, has decided to withdraw from public life. Coupled with the retirement of Senators Fassett and Hendricks, the retirement of Mr. Sloan is a loss to the State which will not be easily repaired. Mr. Sloan's career is an illustration of the great value to the State of the "business man in politics." He was a commission grain merchant at Oswego in 1873, when first elected a member of the Legislature as an Assemblyman from Oswego County. He was a quiet, modest man, and it took some time for his fellow members to discover that they had at their elbows a man of exceptional good Legislature. He rapidly came to the front, and upon his second term as Assemblyman, in 1876, he was appointed chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means; that is the leading committee in the Assembly and the one which has charge of all the bills affecting taxation in the State. Mr. Sloan showed such ability in this place that the following year, 1877, he was

SAVING A MURDERER FROM A MOB

Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—Sheriff Charles E. Marlett, of Richmond, stopped in this city yesterday for three hours, while on his way to the Jeffersonville prison with the murderer Kinney, during which time Kinney was lodged in the county jail. While endeavor ing to break into the house of Mr. Morgan, of Randalph County, Kinney, on being discovered by Morgap, murered him, and soon after, fearing that he would be lynched, pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree. Kinney was sentenced for life to prison, and on being informed by several people that a mob was gathering to break into the Richmond jail, where the murderer was confined, Sheriff Marlett got the prisoner surreptitiously out of town with all speed, in order to avoid violence. Kinney was brought up back streets and through alleys to the county jall here and appeared to be by far the worst scared man ever seen in Indianapolis.

A PASTOR'S SWEEPING ACCUSATIONS.

The Rev. Dr. G. Hutchinson Smyth, who recently resigned the pastorate of the Second Dutch Reformed Church, of Harlem, made a statement to his congregation yesterday morning, in which he denounced the Rev. W. E. Chambers, the chairman of the investigating committee appointed by the classis. He also accused W. E. Ferris, an ex-member of the consistory, of trying to keep him out of the pulpit, and of trying to prevent the building of the present new church, at One-hundred-and-twenty-seventh-st. and Lenox-ave. He says that Dr. Chambers acted in an unmanly way. Dr. Smyth made other charges of a general nature against the consistory of the church, who, it will be recalled, charged him with trying to have his $5,000 salary raised. Dr. Smyth's resignation will take effect on October 1.

RECEIVER OF A TELEGRAPH COMPANY. Morrison and A. de Russey Sappington were yesterday appointed receivers of the International Telegraph Dis trict and Construction Company. The receivers were appointed under the creditors bill filed by William J. Chapman, and the company admitted its insolvency and concented to the appointment. Mr. MacNeal is president of the company.

LIABILITIES CLOSE TO $500,000,

INDEBTEDNESS OF THE STAR RUBBER COMPANY -ITS CASE NOT HOPELESS.

Trenton, May 24 (Special).-The mortgages which were to have been placed yesterday on the mill works, plant and stock of the Star Rubber Company, were not orded because it was impossible to get them ready. Woodbury D. Holt and James Buchanan, counsel for the company, said that the intention was to record them to-morrow. The mortgages are ten in number and are said to aggregate over $460,000. The Trenton savings Bank has already a mortgage for $21,000 on the plant, bringing its incumbrance now close up to the half-million figure. Counsel decline to disclose the details of the mortgages, but it is understood they are drawn as follows: To Jonathan Steward, president drawn as follows: of the company, for about $160,000, to secure him for indorsements; to Thomas A. Bell, secretary and manager, for about $75,000, to secure him for indorsements and for cash advanced; to Philip P. Dunn, treasurer, for about $50,000, to secure him as accomm tion indorser and accommodation maker of notes discounted for the benefit of the Star Company; to the Bordentown Banking Company, for $30,000, to secure it for discounts; to the Trenton Banking Company, for $3,000, to secure it for discounts; to Mahlon Hutchinson, of Bordentown, for $25,000, to secure him for of Trenton, for $50,000, to secure it for disc for the benefit of persons helding paper made by the Star; to William T. Vannest, for about $45,000, to secure him as accommodution indorser and for money loaned to the company; to A. V. Manning, for $10,000, to secure him for indorsements; to William C. Ivins, for about $15,000, to secure him for indorsements and advances. The Chemical Bank of New-York holds Star paper to the amount of $30,000, and it is said that the Bank of America, of New-York City, is interested in a similar manner, though for a small sum.

"Is the Star's case hopeless!" inquired a reporter last night of Mr. Holt.

"No," was the reply. "The directors say the Star has been doing a magnificent business, and if the arrangements being made in its interest and that of the creditors are undisturbed by pressing claimants, it can go on doing a good business. That shows the case is not a hopeless one."

The general fear in this city, however, is that the Star is doomed. Its desperate strait is admitted by its officers and all its friends. The regret is widespread, as the Star has always been regarded as one of the hest among the industrial establishments of the city. It was originally established by the late Charles V. Mead, and was known as the Mead Rubber Company. Mead, and was known as the Mead Rubber Company. Afterward its name was changed to the Star Rubber Company. In 1872 a special charter was granted to the Star, under which the reorganization was effected. The capital stock of the company is $275,000. In the last nine years it has been paying handsome dividends, and the claim is made that it could have continued on its career of prosperity had not the stringency in the money market occurred. The whole city hopes that the Star will pull through. Its wreck and ruin mean disaster to other industrial concerns with which its managers are intimately associated, and its rescue means a renewal of confidence which would serve to make things look brighter in the city. The banks interested in the affairs of the company cannot be harmed enough to make them feel it, even though a complete collapse of the Star should occur.

WHY THE MONEY WAS SENT TO IRELAND JOHN D. CRIMMINS DEFENDS THE ACTION OF THE COMMITTEE.

John D. Crimmins a large contributor to the Irish Parliamentary Fund, and one of the committee of influential Irish-Americans who decided a few days ago to send the money to Ireland that was raised at the big meeting in the Metropollian Opera House a few months ago, was seen last evening by a reporter of The Tribune and shown the protest signed by Stephen McFarland and Michael Breslin, who declared that the committee had no right to forward the money without the consent of the united Irish societies of New-York.
"That protest," said Mr. Orimmins, "is not alone unreasonable, but I would almost say unpatriotic as well. We had a perfect right to send $15,000 to Ireland, because the men present when it was decided to do this contributed more than that much money themselves alone."

"That is not so," replied Mr. Orimmins. many representative Irishmen from many of the large cities, and I had myself many letters from other large cities, and I had myself many letters from other large subscribers, who were unable to be present, approving of the resolution to send the money to Ireland, and to let Archbishop Croke, of Cashel, that faithful and patrictic prelate, disburse it. It is absurd when these men who protest talk of two parties; there is in reality only one party in Ireland when we recognize, that led by Justin McCarthy and bracked by the overwhelming majority of the Irish people at home and abroad. The money that we have sent to Ireland will help the people who have suffered by the 'Plan of Campaign,' and it is exactly the application of the funds that O'Brien and Dillon approve heartlly."

MEMORIAL SUNDAY OBSERVED.

SERMONS IN HONOR OF THE SLAIN DEFENDERS

OF THE UNION-PATRIOTIC MUSIC. Memorial Sunday was observed last night by the Grand Army posts of the city, who attended services in various churches and listened to sermons commemorating the valor of the soldiers who died in defence of the Union. In most cases the churches were decorated with flags, many of which had seen service in the Rebellion, and music appropriate to the occasion was given. Alexander Hamilton Post, No. 182, observed Me

Sunday last evening by attending Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, Seventh-ave, and One-hundred-andtwenty-ninth-st. Fully 250 members were present. The exercises included the reading of orders by Adjutant J. A. Colvin, an address by Commander F. S. Bartram, and a sermon by the Rev. Dr. J. R. Day, pastor of the church.

Judson Kilpatrick Poet, Samuel H. Bailey com-mander, attended services at the Second Collegiate Church of Harlem, Lenox-ave. and One-hundred-andtwenty-third-st. About seventy-five members of the pest were present. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. G. H. Smyth, paster of the church.

The Church of the Paulist Fathers, which, next to St. Patrick's Cathedral, is the largest Roman Catholic Church in the city, was crowded last evening. About fifteen Grand Army posts were present, in uniform.

Addresses were made by the Rev. Walter Elliott and the Rev. Joseph M. Flynn, of Morristown, N. J., who is himself a veteran.

The memorial services of Lafayette Post were held at St. Andrew's Methodist Episcopal Church. The Rev. Dr. G. E. Stobridge preached the sermon.

At the Church of St. John the Evangelist, the veterans of Sumner Post, about seventy-five in number, listened to an able sermon by the Rev. Dr. B. F. De Costa, chaplain of this post.

The members of George B. McCiellan Post at-tended services in the Bedford Street Methodist Episcopa Church. The Rev. Dr. Reed preached. Memorial services were also held at the Baptist Tabernacle in Second-ave. Hancock, Lafayette and Dix posts were present. The Rev. Dr. D. C. Potter delivered the sermon. The Emmanuel Baptist Church, in Suffelk-st., was also the scene of memorial services. There were present Hans Powell, Naval, and Peter Cooper posts, the Farragut Veteran Association and the Cadets. Addresses were made by General James R. O'Beirne and the Rev. Samuel Alman, pastor of the church. Farnsworth Post, Commander F. M. Clark, of Mount Vernon, attended memorial services at two churches yesterday, and had as special escort the 11th Separate Company, National Guard, Captain E. J. Kindler commanding. The principal service was in the evening at the First Presbyterian Church, at which the Rev. Charles S. Lane preached a sermon especially suited for the occasion. A mixed choir of about thirty votes, conducted by Charles S. Stecker, gave a programme of patriotic songs and hymns, and Mason Currier played appropriate selections on the organ. In the morning the post and the National Guardsmen attended the Reformed Church, at which there was a special musical service arranged by the organist, Robert Todd.

Henry Wilson Post attended the service at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, York-st., Jersey City. At the Hedding Methodist Episcopal Church, Jersey City. At the Rev. W. C. Snodgrass, the pastor, preached to about 200 members of G. Van Houten Post. Farnsworth Post, Commander F. M. Clark, of Mount

A MONUMENT TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS. Boston, May 24 (Special).-The Soldiers and Sailors' Monument In Woodlawn Cemetery, Chelsea, was dedicated to-day. Congressman Henry Cabot Lodge was the orator. The monument is composed of four can-non, given by the United States to Post No. 35, three of which are placed upright at angles resting on a embedded at the base in their mouths. In the course embedded at the base in their months. In the course of his address Mr. Lodge said:

One other thought that comes to me as I stand here to-day is this: We rear the monument in memory of the dead, so that so long as iron and bronze and granite stand they may be freshly remembered. But we also rear it to commemorate the cause for which they fought. We buried in the grave of the war fraternal strife and civil hatred. But when we buried all those sectional feelings, all emitties toward persons, we did not bury the memory of the great cause for which these men who lie here and in a thousand other graveyards through the land gave their lives and the best years of their lives. We raise this monument in memory of a united country. We raise this monument in memory of a united country we raise it in memory of freedom. We raise it to keep alive the belief in American citizenship. It is of little value to have fought the war if we forget its great achievements. It is of little value to have saving. All this vast sacrifice should not be allowed to go for nothing. Those who rear this monument, those who stand around me here to-day, they and their brethren when they saved the country and committed it to the charge of the future generations, committed with it also the cause which they bore to victory. The lesson which they teach as I read it, is the lesson of devotion to the Union, of devotion to human liberty, of devotion to the purity and the protection of American citizenship and American institutous. of his address Mr. Lodge said:

A NOTABLE MEMORIAL MEETING. Hingham, Mass., May 24.-Memorial services were held this evening by Edwin Humphrey Post, No. 104, G. A. R., which were significant for two reasons. First, the services were held in the meeting-house of the First Parish, which bears the proud distinction of being the oldest church in the United States in which continuous religious services have been held, having been erected in 1681; second, because the orator of the occasion was the Rev. Dr. John F. Lindsay, cector of St. Paul's Church, Boston, and formerly a soldier in the Confederate army, serving under General Lee. Dr. Lindsay, while rector at Georgetown, D. C., was chaplain of the House of Representatives at Washington. He is now prominently mentioned as bishop to the vacant dlocese of Georgia. The old church wa packed to suffocation. The edifice was beautifully an elaborately bedecked with flowers and plants. Ex-Governor John D. Long introduced the speaker.

SPECIAL STUDIES FOR YOUNG CHRISTIANS. the Lexington Avenue Baptist Church, has had in careful preparation a course of popular and systematic studies covering a term of years and adapted especially for younger members of churches. As set forth in a circular issued by him on May 16, "the purpose is to arrange a systematic course of reading for young Christians who have a fair average English education but who have no acquaintance with the classics." The "Bible Study," "Church History," "Modern Missions," "Methods of Local Church Work," "Social Problems," Mental and Moral Philosophy," etc. The idea is that of the Chautauqua Assembly applied only to Bible study and related current themes. This school of Christian Culture will be opened on September 15, and continue until the middle of May. The opening address will be delivered in the Lexington Avenue Church on that day, by the Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur.

PRIESTS AND DEACONS ORDAINED. The General Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church held services of ordination yesterday morning in the Memorial Chapel of the Good Shepherd, in Chelses Square. Bishop Potter presided and Professor Walpole preached the sermon. Six priests and twelve deacons were ordained, as follows: Priests-The Rev. Messrs. John Henry Hopkins, Leighton Hoskins, Charles H. Duncan, Abraham Gahanan, John NEARLY KILLED WITH A SHOVEL. A murder was nearly committed at a late hour on Saturday night. John Reach, a Pole, twenty-five years old, of No. 20 Canal-st., was assaulted by a gang of ruffians, and his shull was fractured by a blow from a shovel. Reach was going to his home when one of five men standing at Grove and Barrow sts. made an insulting remark to him. Reach answered them in broken English, and the crowd began to push him from one to the other. Reach succeeded in getting away from the men and ran to his home near by. He procured a club and returned, and chased the gang to a vacant lot, where they in a body assaulted him. He knocked down two of his assallants, and struck Michael Daly a severe blow. Edward Shannon, it is said, at this juncture seized a shovel and dealt Reach a fearful blow on the head, knocking him down. The gang fled. Reach managed to drag himself to his home, where he fell helpless on the floor of the elecping room, where his wife an a babe born three days before lay in bed. man Flannelly learned of the fight, and Reach told him Martin Shannon, of No. 32 Canal-st., struck him Fiannelly arrested him, and subsequently Michael Daly, of No. 32 Canal-st.; John Allen, of No. 20 Canal-st., and William Brownley, of No. 273 Grove st. were taken to the police station and charged with having aided Shannon. Reach was sent to the City Hospital, where it was said he would probably not die from the effects of his injuries. Shannon is said to be the same fellow who assaulted and nearly killed Captain Frederick W. Farrier, of the First Police Precinct, about five years ago, and was sent to State prison for the crime.

NEWARK.

These appointments destroy the non-partisan character of the departments and nullify the act of five years ago taking them out of politics.

A curious method of theft by an express employe was detected by the managers of the United States Express Company, and resulted yesterday in the arrest of Joseph Naylor, twenty-seven years old, a driver for the company. Two weeks ago Naylor delivered a package and collected $8 upon it. He requested the man receiving it to give him the wrapper around the parcel. When the driver returned to the office he placed the wrapper around another express package and changed the address to Minneapolis, make it appear that the first package had been misdirected. The second package was forwarded to Min nespolis, suspicion was excited, and an investigation was made, when the responsibility was placed upon Naylor. He was held in ball for trial.

Patrick Riefly went on the warpath Saturday night, and, armed with an axe, terrified pedestrians in Pearl and Race sts. He smashed in the door of Mrs. Catherine Long's house and put the inmates to flight. Two officers hastened to the house to arrest the lunatic, but he disappeared before they reached there and has not been seen since.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kenkel, of No. 344 Grier-ave., this city, learned yesterday from New-York papers that their son, Clifton, had been accidentally shot and killed by his friend and travelling companion, Walter Turner, who mistook him for a bear. Young Kinkel was twenty years old. He spant most of his time with a relative in Dakota and studied civil engineering. He thought he could do better in Washington State and some months ago started for there with Waiter Turner, of Minnesota. On Wednesday, the third anniversary of his son's departure for the West, a telegram was received by Albert Kinkel, from Walter Turner, which read: 'Clifton accidentally shot. Come on at once,' Mr. Kinkel, knowing it would take nearly a week to reach Washington, telegraphed back for particulars. On Thursday night came the brief message: 'Clifton delegraphed back for particulars.

OTHER SUBURBAN TOWNS.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY. MOUNT VERNON .- The New-York and Mount Vernon Water Company has given notice that it will cease to exist on June 8. The New-York and East-chester Water Company, from which the town will get its water in the future, has purchased from Dr. Edward F. Brush the Crystal Springs property, on Hutchinson's River, for the purpose of using it as a reservoir that will be completed at once. Its capacity will be more than 100,000,000 gallons. The reservoir is really a natural one, but will be cleaned and walled up, and have gates and pipes put in. The supply of water will be from Hutchinson's Creek and Crystal Springs Brook, the latter running into the river on Dr. Brush's farm. The forty-two acres were sold for $1,000 an acre. The water will be supplied to Westchester, Williamsbridge and South Mount Vernon. The 11th Separate Company, Captain Edward J. Kindler commanding, will have its closing drill and reception at the armory to-night. Company G of the 9th Regiment will come from New-York in a body, and there will be other representatives of the National Guard present. Dancing will begin at 10 o'clock. . . About 700 members of the National Guard, besides the 11th Separate Company, are expected to take part in the unveiling of the Soldiers and Saljors' Monument on Saturday next. There will also be present Department Commander Henry M. Fanton, of Connecticut: Hobbie Post, of Stamford; Charles Lawrence Post, of Portchester; a detachment of Elias Howe Post, of Bridgeport; delegations from Grand Army posts of Bridgeport: delegations from Grand Army posts of New-York City, and Farnsworth Post, of this town. All veteran soldiers and sailors, whether members of any Grand Army post or not, are invited to be present. Miss Hildegarde Whittakez, daughter of the late Captain F. Whittaker, will unveik the monument; ex-Postmaster-General Thomas L. James will deliver the oration; Judge Issae N. Mills will formally present the monument and grounds to the town, and President Jared Sandford will officially accept it. The dedication will take place at 1.30, after which a dinner arranged by the different committees of women, will be served in the armory. A dress parade of the military and veteran organizations will follow. The German Quartet and the Ladies' Choral Society will sing at the unveiling. The sunset gun will be fired by a New-Jersey battery.

THE WALLA WALLA LYNCHING.

COLONEL COMPTON STATES THE REASONS FOR HIS ACTION AT THE TIME.

Walla Walls, Wash., May 24.-The Court of Inquiry nto the lynching of Hunt by soldiers, so far as taking testimony is concerned, closed yesterday. The court will arrive at its conclusions on Monday, and forward its report to the War Department. Corporal Arnold was examined to day. He is one of the men who is now in the guard-house, and is accused of having given the arms for lynching. No information could be ob-tained from him. The soldiers say the reason they lynched Hunt was because they heard that Prosecuting Attorney Blanford would not convict the prisoner, be cause the gamblers had contributed to the campaign fund at his election. Colonel Compton, commandant of Fort Walla Walla, was again put on the stand. He read the following statement:

I wish to make clear the reason which governed me after notifying Captain Smith, the second time, on the evening of the 24th of April to see that his troop was in readiness to act at once if called on during the night. In concluding to place his troops on the edge of the town at the reservation gate at 10 o'clock instead of earlier in the evening, it was because the only information I had was most vague and indefinite, and was conveyed in such a manner that no reasonable man would from it have been impressed with alarm. It was the thought that I knew the men of this command, and it was not possible to believe the soldiers of this garrison could so far forget themselves as to make an attack on the jail, and it was beyond human probability that evenif such an attack was made I thought it would not be made early in the evening at an hour when the city of Walla Walla would be alive with hour when the city of Walla Walla would be after which its citizens and at a time when the alarm would have caused an assembly of its people within a very few minutes. I knew the jail was perfectly secure against the doors closed would have rendered it safe against this mob, had their efforts continued for hours or days. The Sheriff, the custodian of this jail, was supposed to be a decayed and could any reasonable supposition. man of courage, and could any reasonable supposition lead one to believe that the doors would be opened to persons supposed to be bent upon vengaence upon the simple demand? A notification of an attack would have enabled Captain Smith, with his troop in readiness, to espond from the reservation gate within five or six I would further state that as the inquiries progress concerning this matter they show that nearly all the participants are young men from twenty-two to twenty-six years of age and of no previous service to the present sax years of age and of produced and the army for thirty years and the system upon which its former workings were based seem to be changing within the last four years. A new tode of military ethics has been produced and this code has had a tendency to separate the soldier from his officers. To a very wide degree this new mode of government has produced results more and more approximately the soldier of the soldie parent every day we live. The old unswerving loyalty of the soldier for his officer is fast disappearing; discipline deemed an insult and aroused anger.

LAST LYCEUM CONCERT.

The last of the Sunday night concerts at the Lenez Lyceum took place last night. Mr. Seidl, his admirable band, Herr Friedheim, Mr. Behrens, Miss Nina Lertini and Miss Madeline Homer provided the entertainment, which was most heartly and deservedly enjoyed by the audience. Actistically, the high-water mark of the entertainment was reached in the performance by Herr Friedheim of Liszt's concerto in A major and in the performance of the "Leonore" Overture No. 3 and the preside and finale of "Tristan and Isolde," under the impassioned leadership of Herr Seidl. Herr Fried-heim provided a most long pleasure by his reposeful yet vigorous, lucid and technically brilliant reading of the concerto. Mr. Seidl's accompaniment left him per-fect liberty to throw his whole soul into the perform-ance, and he achieved the finest triumph that has failen to his lot in this country. In response to a tamultuous recall, he played Liszt's twelfth Hungarian rhapsody. Herr Friedheim will sail for Germany on Wednesday, but will return next October. the prelude and finale of "Tristan und Isolde," under
